Conference of Minority Transportation Officials Names Milligan & Company the Historically Underutilized Firm of the Year

Milligan & Company, LLC, a consulting and CPA firm based in Philadelphia, was named the Historically Underutilized Business (HUB) Firm of the Year by the Conference of Minority Transportation Officials (COMTO) at its annual conference in Miami in June.

Milligan & Company provides consulting services in transportation management, operations, security consulting, financial management oversight, grant compliance and civil rights/affirmative action consulting. Since its founding in 1985, the firm has provided technical assistance, compliance oversight, training, leadership and advice to innumerable federal, state and local agencies that afford opportunities to disadvantaged businesses, particularly in the transportation and transit industries. A full-service minority and veteran-owned firm, Milligan & Company employs 50 people and has offices in Philadelphia, Cherry Hill, N.J., Washington, D.C. and Baltimore, Md.

“Milligan & Company—led by its CEO John Milligan—has helped improve the transportation industry considerably over the last 20-plus years,” said Julie Cunningham, CEO of COMTO. “Its commitment to excellence demonstrates what a great asset Historically Underutilized Businesses can be to the growth and development of the industry.”

Founded in 1971 on the campus of Howard University in Washington, D.C., the Conference of Minority Transportation Officials (COMTO) was created to provide a forum for senior level minority professionals in the transportation industry. Guided by the motto “building the people who build America,” COMTO is the premier organization for the training, education and professional development of minority transportation professionals, as well as an advocacy group to promote the advancement of Historically Underutilized Businesses and relevant legislative initiatives. COMTO also awards scholarships to minority students to help grow the next generation of public transportation leaders. COMTO has 36 chapters across the nation.
